LIBRARY TO OFFER FREE SEMINARS ON CARE-GIVING

GREENSBORO, NC (October 12, 2004) – The Greensboro Public Library (GPL) in collaboration with Senior Resources of Guilford will hold a free seminar as part of the GPL Brown Bag Lunch Series to discuss the multitude of resources and programs available to senior citizens and their caregivers. Paulette Ferguson of Senior Resources will be the keynote speaker at the seminar, which begins at noon on Wednesday, November 10 at the Central Library, 219 N. Church Street. The program is free and people are encouraged to bring their lunch. Drinks will be provided by the Friends of the Greensboro Public Library. For more information, call 373-3617.

The GPL in conjunction with the Adult Center for Enrichment will present another free program on Thursday, November 18 at the Kathleen Clay Edwards Family Branch Library, 1420 Price Park Road, at 11 a.m. Director of the Adult Center for Enrichment, Sally White, will discuss the importance of self-awareness while taking care of a loved one and the emotional and practical aspects of care-giving. Information about accessing resources for senior citizens and caregivers in the community will be provided as well. For more information, call 373-2923.

The City of Greensboro works in partnership with the community to build an increased quality of life for all residents by fostering an environment where inclusion, diversity, and trust are valued. As the seventh largest employer in Greensboro, the City has a dedicated professional staff of 2700 employees who maintain four core values of honesty, integrity, stewardship, and respect. The City of Greensboro is governed by a council-manager form of government where a mayor and eight council members act as the legislative body.
